

Mary Snopok

Software Developer

Stockholm or Remote

I'm a frontend and mobile developer with a background in People Operations and experience working in agile teams. I bring a unique blend of technical expertise, product thinking, and people skills to everything I build, with a strong focus on creating exceptional user experiences. I love turning ideas into thoughtful, useful products that people genuinely enjoy using. I'm constantly learning, experimenting, and growing alongside amazing colleagues—both human and AI by nature.
